SCHOOL LANDS.

SEC. 6277. Whenever the inhabitants of any congressional township in this state shall desire the sale of the sixteenth section of such township, or of any land substituted therefor, they may, by written petition, signed by a majority of the male inhabitants of such township, require the collector of taxes of the county wherein such school land is situated to sell the same. Act March 22, 1881, sec. 1.

SEC. 6278. Upon the reception of such petition, the collector shall ascertain that it is signed by a majority of the male inhabitants of such township, and shall immediately proceed to divide the land into forty-acre tracts; and, after making such division, a statement or plat of the same and number of each tract shall be made, so that the boundaries may be defined and ascertained, which statement or plat of the sections shall be used as a guide in advertising and selling said lands. Provided, that the collector may, when necessity requires it, call the county surveyor of his county to assist in such survey and division; and he shall be allowed and paid, out of the interest of the funds arising from the sale of such school lands by the said collector, such compensation as he is allowed by law for similar services; and the receipt of such surveyor to said collector shall be a sufficient voucher for the money so paid. Act April 12, 1869, sec. 4, and act March 22, 1881, sec. 2.

SEC. 6279. In subdividing school lands for sale, no tract shall contain more than forty acres; and the division may be made into town or village lots, with roads, streets or alleys between them. Ib., sec. 5.

SEC. 6280. In all sales of school lands, such sales shall commence at the north-east corner tract, which shall be numbered one, and shall be made in tracts of not more than forty acres each, so long as there shall be as much as forty acres remaining to be sold. Act July 18, 1868, sec. 2.

SEC. 6281. The collector shall cause each tract or subdivision of such school land to be appraised at a fair value by three disinterested house-holders of the county, each of whom shall take an oath, which shall be indorsed upon the appraisement, that he does not desire or intend to buy said land, or any part thereof, and that he will not, directly or indirectly, be or become interested in the purchase thereof at the sale to be made by the collector. Such appraisement shall be returned to the collector.

SEC. 6282. The collector shall then give notice that he will sell the said school land at the court-house door of the county, on the first day of the next term of the county court, upon the terms prescribed by law. Such notice shall be published in some newspaper published in the county where the land is situated at least four weeks before the day of sale. If there be no newspaper published in said county, then the collector shall post up written notices in at least six of the most public places of the county four weeks before the day of sale. The collector shall also, in either case, put up a copy of the notice upon the school-house situated on the land, if there be one thereon; if not, at the most public place on the land.

SEC. 6283. Upon the day of sale the collector shall offer the lands at public auction in separate subdivisions, beginning with number one and ending with the last mentioned division. Such sale shall be made between the hours of 12 M. and 3 P. M., but may be continued from day to day, at the same place and between the same hours, until all have been sold or offered. The sale shall be made upon the terms of one-fourth cash, the balance payable in one, two and three years from date, in equal payments, bearing interest at the rate of eight per centum per annum from date of sale until paid. The purchaser shall at once pay the cash payment and execute and deliver to the collector his notes, payable to the treasurer of the county and his successors in office, for the deferred payments and interest.

SEC. 6284. If any bidder shall fail to perfect his bid, by paying the cash payment and executing his notes, the collector shall immediately resell the land, and the bidder shall be responsible for the difference between his bid and the price at which the land sold, which may be recovered from him by the collector in an action for the use of the township.

SEC. 6285. No tract or subdivision shall be sold for less than three-fourths of its appraised value. If any tract offered is not sold, it may be offered again, upon like notice, upon the first day of the next or any succeeding term of the county court, and be so offered until sold, without a new petition.

SEC. 6286. The purchaser shall not make merchandise of the wood on said land, or remove, or permit it to be removed or cut down, save for improvements on the land; and bond and security shall be given for the faithful performance of this requirement until the full amount of the purchase money is paid.

SEC. 6287. The collector shall, without delay, report all sales to the county court, which may reject or confirm the same. If any sale be rejected, the court may order the collector to again advertise and offer the land, and may specify the minimum price at which the tract may be sold, not to be less than two-thirds of appraised value. If the sale be confirmed, the collector shall execute and deliver to the purchaser a certificate in the following form:

"I, _____, collector in and for the county of _____, certify that _____ has purchased lot No. _____, of section _____, in township _____, range _____, for the price of _____ dollars, of which he has paid cash _____ dollars, and has executed his three notes, each for _____ dollars, maturing at one, two and three years from this date, bearing interest at the rate of eight per centum per annum from date. If said notes and interest are paid at maturity, I, or my successor in office, will convey said lot of land to said _____; but if either of said notes be not paid at maturity, said _____ shall surrender to me possession of said land, and shall forfeit his purchase and the money paid.

A B,

"Collector of _____ County."

The purchaser shall thereupon be entitled to take possession of the land and to improve the same; but if he shall fail to pay either note at maturity, he shall forfeit his purchase and all money paid. If the sale be rejected by the county court, the collector shall return to the purchaser his notes and money. In all cases proper orders of confirmation or rejection shall be entered of record by the court.

SEC. 6288. Out of the cash payment the collector shall pay costs of advertising and costs of orders of confirmation or rejection of sale. He may also retain two per cent. of the cash payment for his services. The residue of money and notes he shall deliver to the county treasurer, who shall keep the same separate as the property of the township to which the land belongs, under direction of the county. The treasurer shall lend all moneys belonging to townships in his hands, keeping each and the security for each separate by townships, taking as security for the money loaned a note, with one responsible person as security, and a trust conveyance of real estate worth, excluding improvements, at least double the sum loaned thereon; interest thereon to be paid annually at ten per cent. Loans may be made for five years, but on failure to pay any installment of interest, the principal shall become due, and the land taken as security shall be subject to sale for the payment thereof, whether so expressed in the deed or not.

SEC. 6289. On the day that the apportionment of school funds is made by the county court, the treasurer shall report to the court the amount of interest in his hands belonging to each congressional township in his county, and the court shall apportion the interest so belonging to each township to and among the schools kept or taught in such townships.

SEC. 6290. If any purchaser shall fail to pay his notes, or either of them, the treasurer or his successor in office shall at once notify the county collector of such default, and thereupon the collector shall immediately and without warrant or writ enter upon and take possession of the tract upon which default of the purchase money has been made, and shall advertise and sell the same in the same manner that the sale in the first instance was made, except that no petition for sale shall be necessary. Provided, that if the purchaser shall pay the amount of the note due, all interest thereon, the costs of advertising and a fee of two per cent. of the amount due to the collector, upon or before the day of sale, the sale shall not be made, and the collector shall redeliver possession to the purchaser.

SEC. 6291. When any purchaser makes full payment of all purchase money and interest, the treasurer shall give him a certificate that full payment has been made, and, upon presentation of such certificate to the county collector for the time being, the collector shall, at the expense of the purchaser, convey the tract mentioned in the treasurer's certificate to such purchaser, his heirs and assigns.

SEC. 6292. The county treasurer shall receive for his compensation two per cent. of the interest collected, and no more. Act March 22, 1881, secs. 3-10.

SEC. 6293. As soon as practicable, the commissioner of state lands shall turn over to the county clerks of the several counties in this state all books, maps, papers, surveys and evidences of debt pertaining to the sixteenth section in the several counties, and all collectors shall pay over to the treasuries of their respective counties all funds in their hands, or that may come into their hands, arising from the sale of the sixteenth section. Ib., sec. 11, as amended by act March 10, 1883.

SEC. 6294. Where the county line runs through a congressional township, the sheriff shall pay over to the county treasurers of each of the counties in which a part of such township is situated a pro rata share of any moneys arising from the sale of the sixteenth section, according to the number of acres in each county so interested. Act March 10, 1883, sec. 2.

SEC. 6296. If any person who shall have purchased any portion of the sections of school lands from the collector of any of the counties of this state, and paid one-fourth the purchase money therefor, and received a bond for title from such collector, shall die before such payment is fully made, and the executor, administrator, guardian or legal representative of such deceased person shall pay or cause to be paid the balance, if any, that shall be due to the collector on said purchase, upon the certificate of the collector of the proper county that the whole of the purchase money, with all the interest due thereon, has been

SURETY MAY MAINTAIN ACTION AGAINST HIS PRINCIPAL.

SECTION 6395. A surety may maintain an action against his principal to compel him to discharge the debt or liability for which the surety is bound, after the same has become due.

SEC. 6396. A surety may maintain an action against his principal to obtain indemnity against the debt or liability for which he is bound; before it is due, whenever any of the grounds exist upon which, by the provisions of chapters VII and IX, an order may be made for arrest and bail, or for attachment (a).

SEC. 6397. In such action, the surety may obtain any of the provisional remedies allowed, and upon the ground and in the manner prescribed by law. Civil Code, secs. 749-751.

WHEN AND HOW SURETY MAY COMPEL PAYEE OR HOLDER TO SUE.

SEC. 6398. Any person bound as surety for another in any bond, bill or note, for the payment of money or the delivery of property, may, at any time after action hath accrued thereon, by notice in writing, require the person having such right of action forthwith to commence suit against the principal debtor and other party liable.

SEC. 6399. If such suit be not commenced within thirty days after the service of such notice, and proceeded in with due diligence, in the ordinary course of law, to judgment and execution, such surety shall be exonerated from liability to the person notified (aa).

(a) This provision was not in conflict with the constitution of 1868. Ruddell v. Childress, 31-511. An executor who seeks to remove out of the state, without leaving property to indemnify his sureties against loss by reason of his conversion of the assets of the estate, may be arrested and held to bail under this section. Id.

(aa) Where a surety has given the holder of a bond notice, under this statute, to sue the principal debtor, and he fails to do so within thirty days, he may plead his exoneration in a court of law (it appearing upon the face of the bond that he is security), in bar of an action on the bond. State Bank v. Watkins, 6-123. Or

SEC. 6400. The two preceding sections shall not extend, first, to the bond of any executor, administrator, guardian or other person given to secure the performance of his trust or the duties of his office; nor, second, to any bond with collateral conditions, except bonds with collateral conditions exclusively for the payment of money or the delivery of property, or exclusively for the performance of a covenant or agreement for the payment of money or delivery of property.

RIGHTS AND REMEDIES OF SURETIES AGAINST PRINCIPAL, AND BETWEEN EACH OTHER.

SEC. 6401. When any bond, bill or note for the payment of money or delivery of property shall not be paid by the principal debtor, according to the tenor thereof, and such bond, bill or note, or any part thereof, shall be paid by the surety, the principal debtor shall refund to the surety the amount or value, with interest thereon at the rate of ten per centum per annum from the time of such payment (b).

SEC. 6402. When such payment by a surety shall be made in money, such surety may recover the same, with interest, in an action for so much money paid to the use of the defendant; and, when payment is made in property, he he may elect to suffer judgment by default, and apply to equity for relief. Hemptead & Conway v. Watkins, adm. of Byrd, Ib., 317.

Where the holder of a bond gives day of payment to the principal, on a valuable consideration, without the consent of a security, the latter is thereby discharged, both in law and equity. Coldwell's exr. v. McVicar, 9—418.

The failure of the obligee or payee to sue the principal debtor, within the time prescribed by the statute, will not release the security where the notice to sue, given by the security under the statute, is served, not upon the obligee or payee himself, but upon his attorney at law who has the note for collection. Cummins & Finno v. Garretson, 15—132. If a receiver in prison for a failure to pay over is discharged with the assent of the party procuring the order for his imprisonment, that does not discharge his sureties. Hawkins v. Mims, 36—145. An extension of time will not discharge the surety, unless it be for some definite time. King v. Haynes, 35—463. Proof of the surety's notice to the creditor to sue must be clear. Ib. An agreement to extend the time of payment must be upon an adequate consideration. Payment of a part of the debt by the principal is not such a consideration, and an agreement to extend the time based thereon will not discharge the surety, even though carried out. Nor will mere delay to issue an execution have that effect. Thompson v. Robinson, 34—44. An agreement for forbearance will not discharge the surety, unless the time is fixed. Ib. A failure of the creditor to attach, upon notice by the surety to sue, will not discharge the latter, unless grounds for attachment be shown. Ib. Sureties will be discharged by a willful loss of collaterals. Hubbard v. Pace, 34—80. The marriage of the creditor and principal debtor discharges the sureties. Govan v. Moore, 30—667. The discharge of one of the sureties by failure of the creditor to sue after notice does not discharge the others. Wilson v. Tebbetts, 29—579. Where the principal debtor mortgages to his sureties property sufficient to indemnify them, they can not require the creditor to bring suit. Ib. Where a sheriff, for the benefit of the principal, pays off an execution in his hands against the principal and security, without the consent of the latter, a court of equity will enjoin its enforcement against the surety. Hill v. Sewell, 27—15.

(b) A surety on a vendee's notes for the purchase money has a right to enforce the vendor's lien superior to any other claims against the land on account of the vendee. Beattie v. Dickinson, 39—205. Where, in an action against principal and sureties, property of the principal is attached, and he gives cross-bond, with sureties, the latter are primarily liable, as between themselves and the original sureties, to the extent of the value of the property. Fletcher v. Menken, 37—206. Sureties on guardian's bond who have paid his debts are entitled to subrogation to the ward's remedies against him. Gilbert v. Neely, 35—24. Where successive sureties are given at various stages of a litigation, each set exonerates the preceding, and, while all are liable to the creditor, as between themselves they are liable to exoneration in inverse order. Christman v. Jones, 34—73. A surety can not be subrogated until he has paid the entire debt. McConnell v. Beattie, 34—113; see Schoonover v. Allen, 40—132. A surety need not wait for judgment against him before paying; but by paying before judgment he undertakes the burden of showing that he was actually bound to pay. Fishback v. Weaver, 34—569. Sureties who are compelled to pay the debt after the close of the administration on the estate of a co-surety can subject assets descended to the heir to contribution. Williams v. Ewing, 31—229. Sureties may plead, in defense of an action on a promissory note, that it was executed upon the sole consideration that the payee was to advance their principal a certain sum of money, which he failed to do, and retained the note as collateral security on other transactions. Bushey v. Reynolds, 31—657.

may recover the value, with the interest, in an action for so much property sold to the defendant (bb).

SEC. 6403. When there are two or more sureties in such bond, bill or note, and any of them shall pay, in money or property, more than his due proportion of the original demand, such surety may recover such excess in the same form of action as herein provided for a surety against the principal debtor (c).

SEC. 6404. No such surety shall be compelled, in any such action as specified in the preceding section, to pay more than his due proportion of the original demand; and, when such surety shall have previously paid any part thereof, he shall be liable in such action to pay only so much as the amount already paid by him falls short of his due proportion of the original demand.

SEC. 6405. In all cases where judgment is given in any circuit court upon any bond, bill or note, for the payment of money or the delivery of property, against the principal debtor and sureties therein, and such surety shall pay the judgment, or any part thereof, he shall be entitled, upon motion, to judgment in the same court against the principal debtor for the amount he is entitled to recover, together with costs.

SEC. 6406. No judgment shall be rendered, as provided in the preceding section, unless the party applying therefor shall have given the adverse party at least ten days' notice in writing of such motion, nor unless such motion shall be made within one year from the rendition of the original judgment (*).

SURETIES ON OFFICIAL BONDS, HOW DISCHARGED.

SEC. 6407. Any person bound as a surety in any bond given by an officer for the faithful performance of the duties of his office may, on his petition in writing adduced to the court authorized by law to take and approve such official bond, be discharged from all future liability on such official bond (cc).

SEC. 6408. Such petition shall set forth the facts upon which the application for a discharge is founded, and shall be verified by the affidavit of the petitioner.

SEC. 6409. A notice in writing of such intended application, together with a copy of the petition, shall be personally served on the principal in such bond at least twenty days before the making of such application (d).

SEC. 6410. If the principal in the bond shall have been absent from the state for the period of six months, the publication of such notice and petition in some newspaper printed in this state, for three successive weeks, shall be a sufficient service of such notice.

SEC. 6411. The court to whom the petition is addressed shall hear the application, and may, on examination thereof, in their discretion, make an

(bb) Where a surety pays a debt on default of his principal, there is such an implied assent, on the part of the principal, as will entitle the surety to maintain an action against him for money paid. Snider v. Great-house et al., 16—72. See also Bone, adm., v. Torry, Ib., 83; Chipman v. Fambro, Ib., 291.

(c) The giving of a mortgage by one surety to secure the debt does not render him liable for the whole amount as between himself and his co sureties, and if one of them pays the debt, he can only recover contribution from the mortgaging surety. Chollar v. Temple, 39—238.

(d) See SECS. 3357-3362.

(cc) This statute does not apply to sureties on the bond of an administrator. Va'court v. Sessions, 30—515.

order requiring the principal in such bond to give new bond and surety for the performance of his official duties (e).

SEC. 6412. If such bond and surety is given, it shall be taken, approved, filed and recorded in the same manner that the official bond of such officer is required by law to be taken, approved and recorded.

SEC. 6413. When such new bond is taken, approved and filed, it shall immediately operate as a discharge of all the sureties in the former bond from all liability arising from any subsequent misconduct or default of the principal therein; and such sureties shall thenceforth be liable on such bond only for such breaches thereof as shall have happened prior to the taking, approving and filing of the new bond.

SEC. 6414. Any person bound as a surety in any bond given by an officer to secure the faithful performance of his duties, who shall pay any money he shall have been liable to pay by reason of such bond, shall have the same right and remedy against the principal and co-sureties as are provided in this act against principal and surety in bonds, bills or notes for the payment of money or the delivery of property.

SEC. 6415. Actions for the remedies given by this act may be maintained by and against executors and administrators in all cases where they could be maintained by or against their testators or intestates. Rev. Stat., chap. 137.

CHAPTER CXLIV.

SECTION	SECTION
6416. Keepers of public taverns required to procure license from county court.	6417. Who not required to procure such license.
	6418. Mode of procuring license, tax, etc.

SECTION 6416. The county courts are authorized to grant tavern licenses within their respective counties, to continue in force for one year, and to renew the same from time to time, as may be required. All persons keeping a public tavern, whether they retail spirituous or vinous liquors or not, shall first procure a license for that purpose from the county court of the county (a). Rev. Stat., chap. 148, secs. 1, 3.

The court, on examination of any petition for the privilege of keeping a tavern, if satisfied that such license should be granted, shall assess the amount of tax to be paid yearly for such privilege, which shall not be less than ten dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars. When such tax shall be so assessed, the applicant shall pay the amount to the county treasurer of his county, and, on producing the treasurer's receipt, such license shall be granted in such form as shall be prescribed by the court. Ib., secs. 5, 6, 7.

SEC. 6420. SEC. 6448. The certificate prescribed in the preceding section must, in order to create any right whatever in favor of the party filing it, be accompanied by a written declaration, verified by the person or by some member of the firm or officer of the corporation by whom it is filed, to the effect that the party claiming the protection for the trade mark has a right to the use of the

But this section shall not prevent the registry of any lawful trade mark rightfully in use on the first day of May, 1883.

SEC. 6450. The time of the receipt of any trade mark at the office of the secretary of state, for registration or record, shall be noted and recorded. Copies of the trade mark, and of the date of receipt thereof, and of the statement filed therewith, under the seal of the secretary of state, shall be furnished by the secretary to any person who may apply therefor, and pay the fee therefor fixed by the secretary, not exceeding the fee required for the original registration thereof, and such copies shall be evidence in any suit or proceeding in which such trade mark shall be brought in controversy.

SEC. 6452. Such trade mark, during the period it remains in force, shall entitle the person, firm or corporation registering the same to the exclusive use thereof, so far as regards the description of goods to which it is appropriated in the statement filed under oath, as aforesaid, and no other party shall lawfully use the same trade mark, or substantially the same, or so nearly resembling it as to be calculated to deceive, on substantially the same description of goods, or obtain, use or employ any article or thing whatever upon which such trade mark, or substantially the same, or one so nearly resembling it as to be calculated to deceive, has been printed, painted, stamped, woven, branded, or in any manner put or placed, for the purpose of putting up, shipping, selling or otherwise disposing of substantially the same description of goods as those to which the same has been appropriated by the party rightfully entitled to the use of such trade mark; and any person or member of any firm, or agent, or officer of any corporation, not entitled so to do, who shall knowingly use such trade mark, or obtain, use or employ, as aforesaid, any such article or thing, or shall reproduce, counterfeit, copy or imitate any recorded trade mark, and affix the same to, or, for the purpose of having the same used or disposed of, to affix to goods of substantially the same descriptive properties and qualities as those referred to in the registration, or who shall, with intent to defraud, deal in or sell, or keep, or offer for sale, or cause or procure the sale of, any goods of substantially the same descriptive properties as those referred to in the registration of any trade mark registered in pursuance of this act, to which, or to the package in which the same are put up, is fraudulently affixed said trade mark, or any colorable imitation thereof, calculated to deceive the public, knowing the same to be counterfeit, or not the genuine article, or goods referred to in said registration, shall be deemed guilty of a high misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, and such person, and also the firm of which he is a member, or the corporation of which he is an agent or officer, and which may have countenanced or connived at his act, shall moreover be liable to an action for damages for such wrongful act, at the suit of the owner of such trade mark, and the party aggrieved shall also have his remedy according to the course of equity, to enjoin the wrongful use of his trade mark, and to recover compensation therefor in any court of competent jurisdiction, and in any such action or suit such owner or aggrieved party shall be entitled to recover a reasonable amount for attorney's fees, to be paid by the party or parties held liable therein.

SEC. 6453. No action shall be maintained under the provisions of this act by any person claiming the exclusive right to any trade mark which is used or claimed in any unlawful business, or upon any article which is injurious in itself, or upon any trade mark which has been fraudulently obtained, or which has been formed and used with the design of deceiving the public in the purchase or use of any article of merchandise.

SEC. 6454. Any person who shall procure the registry of any trade mark, or of himself as the owner of a trade mark, by making false or fraudulent representations or declarations, verbally or in writing, or by any fraudulent means, shall be liable to pay any damages sustained in consequence thereof to the person injured thereby.

If no land is devised, then in the county where he died, or that wherein his estate, or the greater part thereof, shall lie, or where there may be any debt or demand owing to him.

SEC. 6509. An appeal shall lie from the court of probate to the circuit court, and thence to the supreme court, upon every order admitting a will to record or rejecting it. The appeal to the circuit court shall be taken within one year after rendering the order of probate, or rejection in the court of probate (*), and to the supreme court within one () year after the final decision in the circuit court.

SEC. 6510. No will shall be received in evidence until it has been allowed and admitted to record by a court of probate (†), and its probate before such court shall be conclusive, until the same is superseded, reversed or amended. Civil Code, sec. 513.

SEC. 6511. Every will so proved, recorded and signed by the clerk of the court of probate, and attested by his seal of office, may be read as evidence without any further proof thereof. Rev. Stat., chap. 157, sec. 29.

SEC. 6512. The court of probate, or the clerk thereof in vacation, on being informed that a person has in his custody the will of a testator, may summon him, and, by proper process, compel him to produce the same. Civil Code, sec. 513; Rev. Stat., chap. 157, sec. 56.

SEC. 6513. When a will of a non-resident of this state, relative to an estate within this state, has been proved without the same, an authenticated copy thereof, and the certificate of probate thereof, may be offered for probate in this state. When such copy is so offered, the court to which it is offered shall presume, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, that the will was duly executed and admitted to probate as a will of personalty in the state or country of the testator's domicile, and shall admit such copy to probate as a will of personalty in this state; and, if it appears from such copy that the will was proved in the foreign court of probate to have been so executed as to be a valid will of lands in this state, by the law thereof (i), such copy may be admitted to probate as a will of real estate. Civil Code, sec. 513.

SEC. 6514. When any will or any such authenticated copy is offered for probate, and a witness attesting the same resides out of this state, or, though in the state, is in confinement in another county or corporation under legal process, or is unable, from sickness, age or other infirmity, to attend the court before which the same is offered, or resides at a distance of more than fifty miles, such court may cause a commission to be issued, annexed to the said will or copy, and directed to any person authorized by law to take depositions in other cases, to take his deposition. The deposition of such witness shall be taken and certified as depositions are taken in other cases, except that no notice need be given of the time and place of taking the same, unless it is a case in which the probate is opposed by some person who has made himself a party; and the proof so given shall have the same effect as if it had been given in the court from which the commission issued. Civil Code, sec. 513.

SEC. 6515. When one of the witnesses to such will shall be examined, and the other witnesses are dead, insane, or their residence unknown, then such proof shall be taken of the handwriting of the testator, and of the witnesses dead, insane or absent, and of such other circumstances as would be sufficient to prove such will on a trial at common law (†). Rev. Stat., chap. 157, sec. 21.

SEC. 6516. If it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court or clerk that all the subscribing witnesses to the will are dead, insane or absent, the court or clerk shall take and receive such proof of the handwriting of the testator and subscribing witnesses to the will, and of such other facts and circumstances as would be sufficient to prove such will in a trial at law. Ib., sec. 22.

PROBATE OF WILL BEFORE COURT, UPON NOTICE.

SEC. 6518. A person offering, or intending to offer, to a court of probate a will for probate may obtain from the clerk of such court process directed to the proper officer of any county, requiring him to summon any person interested in such probate to appear at the next term of such court and show cause why the said will should not be admitted to record. Civil Code, sec. 513.

SEC. 6519. The court to which a will is offered for probate may cause all persons interested in the probate to be summoned to appear on a certain day.

SEC. 6520. Any person interested in such probate may be summoned or proceeded against by order of appearance, and to any person so interested, who is an infant or of unsound mind, a guardian ad litem may be assigned as in other cases.

SEC. 6521. When the proceeding is taken to the circuit court, all necessary parties shall be brought before the court; and, upon the demand of any one of them, a jury shall be impaneled to try which or how much of any testamentary paper produced is or is not the last will of the testator (*). If no jury be demanded, the court shall determine that question, and the final decision given shall be a bar to any other proceeding to call the probate or rejection of the will in question, subject to the right of appeal or writ of error to the supreme court, as hereinbefore named; but nothing in this section shall preclude a court of chancery from its jurisdiction to impeach such final decision for such reason as would give it jurisdiction over any other judgment at law. Civil Code, sec. 513.

PROBATE OF WILL BEFORE COURT, OR CLERK IN VACATION, WITHOUT NOTICE.

SEC. 6522. When any will shall be exhibited for probate, the court of probate, or clerk thereof in vacation, in person or by his deputy, may and shall receive the probate thereof in common form, without summoning any party, and shall grant a certificate of probate, or, if the will be rejected, shall grant a certificate of rejection; but such action by such clerk or deputy, in vacation, shall be subject to the confirmation or rejection of the court. Rev. Stat., chap. 157, sec. 18; Civil Code, sec. 513, subdivision 11; act April 16, 1873.

BY WHOM AND WHEN A RE-TRIAL OF THE QUESTION OF PROBATE MAY BE HAD IN CHANCERY.

SEC. 6523. Any person interested who, at the time of the final decision in the circuit court, resided out of this state, and was proceeded against by order of appearance only, without actual appearance or being personally served with process, and any other person interested who was not a party to the proceedings by actual appearance or being personally served with process, may, within three years after such final decision in the circuit court, by a bill in chancery, impeach the decision and have a re-trial of the question of probate; and either party shall be entitled to a jury for the trial thereof. An infant, not a party, shall not be barred of such proceedings in chancery until twelve months after attaining full age (*).

SEC. 6524. But no such proceeding in chancery for establishing or avoiding a will shall operate further than is necessary to the rights of such infant, non-resident or other party, or otherwise affect the rights of any other person interested in the probate. Civil Code, sec. 513, subdivisions 12 and 13.

SEC. 6525. If any person interested in the probate of any will shall appear within five years after the probate or rejection thereof, and, by petition to the circuit court of the county in which such will was established or rejected, pray to have any such will rejected, if previously established, or proven, if previously rejected by the court of probate, it shall be the duty of the circuit court to direct an issue to try the validity of such will, which issue shall in all cases be tried by a jury (†).

SEC. 6526. If no person shall appear within the time aforesaid to contest the validity of any such will, the probate or rejection thereof shall be binding, saving to infants, married women, persons absent from the United States, or of unsound mind, a like period after their respective disabilities are removed (‡). Rev. Stat., chap. 157, secs. 32-34.

(*) This section does not authorize a court of equity to review the decision of the probate court upon the probate of a will where there has been no appeal to the circuit court. Mitchell v. Rogers, 40—91.

(†) As to issue, burden of proof, etc., in a proceeding under this statute, see Tobin v. Jenkins, 29—151; Rogers v. Diamond, 13—474; McDaniel v. Crosby, 19—533; Jenkins v. Tobin, 31—306.

(‡) Sections 6525, 6526, have given the digester and the examiner considerable embarrassment. Are they in force? The remedies of parties wishing to contest the probate of a will given by the Civil Code seem to cover the whole ground. But in Tobin v. Jenkins, 29—152, the petition was filed under section 6525, after the Code went into effect. The question was not raised, however, as to whether the section had been repealed by the Code, nor was it noticed by the court. However, the case was reversed, and sent down with instructions to the court below to "make up an issue devisavit vel non to be tried by a jury." When the same case came before the court on a second appeal (Jenkins v. Tobin, 31—307), the question of the repeal of the statute was raised; and the court mentioned the fact, that, though the proceeding was commenced after the Code went

EVIDENCE TAKEN ON PROOF OF WILL, ADMITTED WHEN.

The record of what is proved or deposed in court by witnesses, on the motion to admit a will to record, and any depositions lawfully taken out of court, on such motion, of witnesses who can not be produced at a trial afterward before a jury, may, on such trial, be admitted as evidence, to have such weight as the jury shall think they deserve (k).

WILLS, ETC., TO BE RECORDED—CERTIFIED COPY EVIDENCE.

SEC. 6528. Every will or authenticated copy so admitted to record by any court, with the proofs and examinations, shall be recorded by the clerk thereof and remain in his office, except during such time as the same may be carried to another court under subpoena duces tecum. Civil Code, sec. 513; Rev. Stat., chap. 157, sec. 28.

SEC. 6529. The record of any such will made, proved and recorded as aforesaid, and the exemplification of such record by the clerk of the court in whose custody the same may be, shall be received as evidence, and shall be as effectual in all cases as the original would be if produced and proved, and may in like manner be repelled by contrary proof. Rev. Stat., chap. 157, sec. 30.

DEPOSIT OF WILL WITH COUNTY CLERK.

SEC. 6530. A will may be deposited by the person making it, or any one for him, with the clerk of the court of probate of the county of his residence, for safe keeping, upon payment of a fee of one dollar to the clerk, who shall receive, keep and deliver the same according to the directions on a sealed envelope. If there are no such directions, or the party entitled does not apply, the will shall be handed to and opened by the next or some succeeding court of probate after the death of the testator, and there retained for probate. Civil Code, sec. 513.

SEC. 6531. Citizens of any of the United States, or territories thereof, owning real or personal property in this state may devise and bequeath the same by last will and testament, executed and proved according to the laws of this state, or any state or territory in which the will may be made (l).

As it is obvious that there can be no vested right in a civil remedy, the ground of this ruling is not very apparent. In Mitchell v. Rogers, 40—94, the question was alluded to again, though not directly involved in the case, and mention was made of the fact that it is now still further complicated by the clause of the constitution of 1874 giving exclusive original jurisdiction in the probate of wills to the probate court; but the court expressly declined to pass on the question as to whether these sections remain in force. They are here taken from Gould's Digest, having been omitted from Gantt's Digest, doubtless by reason of a conviction that they had been repealed by the Civil Code.

SUBSCRIBING WITNESSES, COMPETENCY OF (m).

SEC. 6535. If any person shall be a subscribing witness to the execution of any will wherein any beneficial devise, legacy, interest or appointment of real or personal estate shall be made to such witness, and such will can not be proved without the testimony of such witness, such devise, legacy, interest or appointment shall be void, so far only as concerns such witness, or any person claiming under him, and such person shall be a competent witness, and may be compelled to testify respecting the execution of such will, in like manner as if no devise or bequest had been made to him. Ib., sec. 39.

SEC. 6536. If such witness would be entitled to any share of the testator's estate in case the will should not be established, then so much of the estate as would have descended or would have been distributed to such witness shall be saved to him as will not exceed the value of the devise or bequest made to him in the will, and he may recover the same from the devisees or legatees named in the will, in proportion to and out of the parts devised and bequeathed to them.

SEC. 6537. If such will be attested by a sufficient number of other witnesses competent to prove such will as required by this act, then such devise, legacy or appointment shall be valid.

SEC. 6538. If by any will any real estate be charged with any debt, and a creditor whose debt is so charged hath attested the execution of such will, such creditor shall be admitted as a witness to the execution of such will.

SEC. 6539. If any person shall attest the execution of any will to whom any legacy or bequest is thereby given, and such person before giving testimony concerning the execution of such will shall have been paid, or have accepted or released, or shall refuse to accept such legacy or bequest upon tender thereof, such person shall be admitted as a witness to the execution of such will, and the credit of such witness shall be subject to the consideration of the court and jury.

SEC. 6540. If any legatee who shall attest the execution of any will shall die in the life-time of the testator, or before he shall have received or released the legacy or bequest so given to him, and before he shall have refused to receive such legacy or bequest, or tender made thereof, such legatee shall be deemed a legal witness to the execution of such will.

SEC. 6541. No person to whom any estate, interest, gift or appointment shall be given or made which is by this act declared to be void, or who shall have refused to receive any such legacy, or bequest, or tender made, and who shall have been examined as a witness concerning the execution of such will, shall, after he has been examined, demand or receive any profit or benefit from any such estate, interest, gift or appointment so given or made to him by such will, or demand, receive or accept from any person any such legacy or bequest, or any satisfaction or compensation therefor. Ib., secs. 40-45.

WHEN, AND IN WHAT CASES, DEVISEES AND LEGATEES, ETC., SHALL MAKE CONTRIBUTION.

SEC. 6542. When any testator, in his last will, shall give any chattels or real estate to any person, and the same shall be taken in execution for the payment of the testator's debts, then all the other devisees, legatees and heirs shall refund their proportional parts of such loss to such person from whom the bequest may have been taken.

SEC. 6543. When any devisee, legatee or heirs shall be required to refund any part of the estate received by them for the purpose of making up the share, devise or legacy of any other devisee, legatee or heir, the court of probate shall, upon the petition of the party interested in such contribution, and due notice being given to the devisee, legatee, heir, executor or administrator, order a contribution and distribution of such estate according to equity, and enforce such order with like effect as decrees of courts of equity. Ib., secs. 46, 47.

LOST OR DESTROYED WILLS, HOW PROVED.

SEC. 6544. Whenever any will shall be lost, or destroyed by accident or design, the court of chancery shall have the same power to take proof of the execution of such will, and to establish the same, as in the case of lost deeds.

SEC. 6545. Upon such will being established by the decree of a competent court, such decree shall be recorded by the clerk of the court before which the will might have been proven if it had not been lost or destroyed; and letters testamentary or of administration, with the will annexed, shall be issued thereon by such clerk in the same manner as upon a will duly proven before him.

SEC. 6546. If, before or during the pendency of an application to prove a lost or destroyed will, letters of administration be granted on the estate of the testator, the court to which such application shall be made shall have authority to restrain the administrator so appointed from any act or proceedings which would be injurious to the legatees or devisees claiming under such lost or destroyed will.

SEC. 6547. No will of any testator shall be allowed to be proved as a lost or destroyed will, unless the same shall be proved to have been in existence at the time of the death of the testator, or be shown to have been fraudulently destroyed in the life-time of the testator; nor unless its provisions be clearly and distinctly proved by at least two witnesses, a correct copy or draft being deemed equivalent to one witness. Ib., secs. 48-51.

TERM "WILL" INCLUDES CODICIL.

SEC. 6548. The term "will," as used in this act, shall be so construed as to include all codicils, as well as wills. Ib., sec. 55.

SEC. 6550. Any person killing a wolf shall exhibit the scalp, with both ears of said wolf, to a magistrate of the county, within thirty days after killing the same; and such magistrate shall strictly examine such person, on oath, or any other person, being a competent witness, touching the time when and place where, and how such scalp was obtained, and whether the wolf to which such scalp belonged was taken and killed within the county; and, when such magistrate shall be satisfied that the person exhibiting said scalp is entitled to the above-mentioned premium, he shall certify said facts to the county court, and the said magistrate shall burn or otherwise destroy all said scalps for which he has given a certificate. Act Dec. 17, 1838, sec. 3.

The plaintiff, Richard Roe, states that the defendant, John Doe, by his promissory note, dated July 1, 1885, and due one day after date, agreed to pay to the plaintiff one hundred dollars for the price of a bay horse, four years old and about fifteen hands high, which the plaintiff sold and delivered to the defendant on the day said note bears date, and which is of the value of one hundred dollars, and is now in the possession of the defendant, in said county. Said note is herewith filed, and the plaintiff says that no part of the sum specified therein has been paid, and that he has a lien on said horse to secure the payment of said sum, with the interest due thereon. PLEADINGS.

No. 64.—Complaint in Ejectment.

[Section 2632.]

In the Circuit Court of Pulaski County.

Richard Roe, plaintiff, }
against } Complaint at Law.
John Doe, defendant. }

Said plaintiff brings this suit against said defendant, and for cause of action he says that he is the owner, in fee simple (or otherwise, as the case may be), of the following lands, lying in said county, and he claims title to them as follows:

1. On the twentieth day of June, 1850, said lands were patented to John Smith by the United States, as will appear by reference to a copy of said patent herewith filed, marked Exhibit "A," and made part hereof.
2. On the twenty-fourth day of March, 1860, said John Smith and his wife, by their deed of that date, duly acknowledged and executed, conveyed said lands to William Robinson, in fee simple, which deed was filed for record in the recorder's office of said county on the twenty-fifth day of March, 1860, as will be seen by reference to a copy of said deed and the certificates thereto annexed, herewith filed, marked Exhibit "B," and made part hereof.

3. On the third day of September, 1874, said Robinson and his wife, by their deed of that date, conveyed said lands to said plaintiff. Said deed was duly acknowledged by said Robinson and wife, and was filed for record in said recorder's office on the fourth day of September, 1874, as will appear by reference to a copy of said deed and the certificates thereto attached, herewith filed, marked Exhibit "C," and made part hereof.

Said defendant is in the unlawful possession of said land, and has been for two years last past, during all of which time the said plaintiff has had title to said land, and still has, and the right to the possession thereof. And plaintiff says that by reason of the said wrongful possession of said land by said defendant he has sustained damages in the sum of ——— dollars. Wherefore, he prays judgment for the recovery of said lands and for the possession thereof, and for said damages for the unlawful detention of the same.

No. 67.—Answer and Exceptions.

[Sections 2632, 2633.]

In the Circuit Court of Pulaski County.

Richard Roe, plaintiff,	} Answer. against
John Doe, defendant.

Comes said defendant, and for answer to said complaint he says:

I.

That it is not true that he is or has been in the unlawful possession of said lands, as stated in said complaint; but he says that he is the owner thereof, and, as such, is entitled to such possession; and he claims title to said lands under the following documentary evidence:

1. On the twenty-fourth day of April, 1865, said John Smith and his wife conveyed said lands, by their mortgage of that date, duly acknowledged and executed, to William Jones, for the purpose of securing the payment of a debt of one thousand dollars due from said Smith to said Jones, which mortgage was filed for record in the recorder's office of said county on the twenty-sixth day of April, 1865, as will be seen by reference to a copy thereof and the certificates thereto annexed, filed herewith, marked Exhibit "A," and made part hereof.

2. On the twenty-fourth day of June, 1866, said Jones filed his complaint on the chancery side of this court, setting up the execution of said mortgage, and that said debt remained unpaid, and praying for a decree for its foreclosure, in which cause said Smith was duly impleaded; and such further proceedings were had in said cause that, on the third day of October, 1867, it was decreed by this court that said lands should be sold by Richard Williams, a commissioner appointed by the court. Said lands were accordingly sold by said commissioner, and they were bought by this defendant. Said commissioner reported said sale to this court, and his report was approved on the twenty-ninth day of December, 1867, all of which will be seen by reference to a copy of said proceedings and decree, herewith filed, marked Exhibit "B," and made part hereof.

3. Said Commissioner Williams, acting under said decree, executed a deed to this defendant, dated on the thirtieth day of January, 1868, which deed was duly acknowledged and delivered, and was approved by said court on the day of its date, and was filed for record in said recorder's office on the first day of February, 1888, as will be seen by a copy of said deed and accompanying certificates, herewith filed, marked Exhibit "B," and made part hereof.

And said defendant says that, under said proceedings and conveyances, he has a title to said lands, in fee simple, and the right to the possession thereof.

II.

And for a further defense said defendant says that the plaintiff's cause of action has not accrued at any time within seven years next before the commencement of this suit.

EXCEPTIONS.

1. The defendant excepts to the admissibility in evidence of the deed from John Smith and wife to William Robinson, a copy of which is filed with said complaint as Exhibit "B" thereto, because he says that the certificate of acknowledgment thereto is insufficient, for that it omits the statutory words, "for the consideration."

2. Defendant also excepts to the admissibility in evidence of the deed from Robinson and wife to the plaintiff, marked Exhibit "C" to said complaint, because he says that the seal of the notary public, before whom said acknowledgment purports to have been taken, is not annexed to the certificate.

Richard Roe, plaintiff,

The plaintiff, Richard Roe, states that on the — day of —, 18—, the defendant, John Doe, executed and delivered to plaintiff a note, herewith filed (original or copy), whereby he promised to pay plaintiff — dollars — months after the date thereof; and that on the day and year last aforesaid defendant, for the purpose of securing the payment of said note, executed and delivered to plaintiff a mortgage deed, which is herewith filed, conveying to the plaintiff (here describe the property as described in the mortgage), upon the following conditions, to wit: (here copy the conditions). [Affidavit.]

No. 92.—Action to Set Aside Fraudulent Deed.

Pulaski Circuit Court.

Richard Roe, plaintiff,
 against
 John Doe, John Knox and Thomas
 Fox, defendants. } Complaint in Equity.

The plaintiff, Richard Roe, states that on the fifteenth day of June, 1884, Thomas Fox executed a deed of trust to defendant, John Knox, as trustee, pretendedly for the purpose of securing the defendant, John Doe, in the payment of a debt, recited in that deed to be two thousand dollars. Said deed embraced all the property of the said Thomas Fox liable to execution, to wit: One house and lot in the City of — (here describe it), and one pair of horses and seven head of cattle.

The plaintiff states that the deed of trust was made and contrived to delay and defraud the creditors of the said Thomas Fox in the collection of their debts; that said Fox only owed said John Doe a small debt, not exceeding two hundred dollars, and, for the fraudulent purpose aforesaid, it was recited in said deed of trust as two thousand dollars; and the said Doe, who is the father-in-law of the said Fox, agreed to hold the property secretly for the benefit of Fox's wife and family.

Plaintiff states that at the September term of the circuit court he recovered a judgment against the defendant, Thomas Fox, for one thousand dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the twenty-fifth day of December until paid, and thirty-seven dollars costs, which judgment remains in full force; that on the twentieth day of January an execution was issued upon said judgment, directed to the sheriff of said county, it being the county of the residence of the said Fox, commanding him to collect said judgment, which execution was regular and valid, and was, on the twentieth day of March, returned by said sheriff, with a return indorsed thereon in substance that the said Thomas Fox had no property in said county out of which said execution, or any part thereof, could be made, and the plaintiff avers that the said Thomas Fox has no property other than that embraced in said deed of trust out of which plaintiff's judgment can be collected.

Wherefore, he prays that said deed of trust be canceled and set aside, and that said property be subjected to the payment of plaintiff's judgment, and for all other proper relief.

Richard Roe, plaintiff,

 John Doe and others, defendants. } Answer.

The defendants, John Doe, John Knox and Thomas Fox, for answer, admit the judgment as stated in the complaint, and admit that the execution therein mentioned was issued and returned as therein stated. They also admit that said Thomas Fox executed the deed of trust, but deny that it was made to delay or defraud his creditors; but they aver that it was made in good faith for the purpose of securing the payment of a debt due by said Fox to the said John Doe, and for no other purpose; that said debt is just, and amounts to the sum stated in said deed of trust; they admit that John Doe is the father-in-law of said Fox, but deny that he agreed to hold the property embraced in the deed of trust, or any part of it, for the benefit of the wife or children of said Fox, or that there was any understanding to that effect.

No. 94.—Action to Dissolve and Settle a Partnership.

Pulaski Circuit Court.

Richard Roe, plaintiff,
 against
John Doe, defendant. } Complaint in Equity.

The plaintiff, Richard Roe, states that on the first day of January, 1886, he formed a partnership with the defendant, John Doe, under the style of Richard Roe & Co., in the business of buying and selling merchandise in the City of Little Rock. By the terms of the partnership, each was to put in an equal amount of capital and share equally in the profits, losses and labors of the business, and the firm was to continue five years, unless sooner dissolved by consent. The partnership has continued nearly two years, during which time the firm has done a large business. Since the commencement of the partnership the defendant has formed habits of intemperance, which wholly disqualify him as a manager or partner of a mercantile concern. These habits are now confirmed, and render the continuance of the connection hazardous to the plaintiff; yet the defendant will not consent to a dissolution and settlement of the firm.

Wherefore, he prays judgment for the dissolution of the partnership, for the settlement of the business and accounts of the firm, for the division of the assets that may remain after the payment of the firm debts, and for other proper relief.

DOCKET ENTRIES IN CRIMINAL CASES.

No. 162.—In Prosecution by Warrant—Issuance of Process, etc.

State of Arkansas, plaintiff, }
against
John Smith, defendant. }

On this tenth day of January, 1885, comes Henry Jones, and made complaint before me, on oath, that said John Smith, on the first day of January, 1885, in the County of Franklin, did [insert here a brief description of the offense, as in No. 154], and said Jones having given bond, with Thomas Ramsey as his security, for the payment of all the costs which may accrue in this prosecution, a warrant for the arrest of said Smith was thereupon issued.

And the said Jones having made affidavit that he is unable to give security for the costs of this prosecution, and it appearing to me that there are strong reasons for believing that the said Jones has been, in plain violation of the criminal laws of this state, maltreated in his person (or "in his property," as the case may be) by the said John Smith, he was permitted to prosecute in this cause without giving bond for such costs, and a warrant for the arrest of said Smith was thereupon issued.

[Section 2380.]

State of Arkansas, plaintiff, }

This day came the said parties, and the defendant, John Smith, filed his application for the removal of this cause to some other township in Franklin County, and for cause of such removal states in said application that the inhabitants of White Oak Township are so prejudiced against him that he can not obtain therein a fair and impartial trial. And said application being verified by the affidavit of said defendant, and supported by the affidavit of John Doe, a credible person, it is therefore ordered by me that this cause be removed to Hogan Township, in said county, and before Henry Elkins, a justice of the peace therein.

No. 164.—Judgment for Fine, etc.

On this — day of January, 1885, comes the defendant, John Smith, and pleads that he is not guilty of the offense charged in the warrant, and demands a trial by jury; and thereupon a jury of twelve good and lawful men of the County of Franklin were summoned, selected, sworn and impaneled according to law to try the issue herein, and a true verdict render, who, having heard the evidence, returned the following verdict: "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty, and assess his punishment at a fine of twenty dollars."

It is therefore adjudged by the court that the plaintiff recover of the defendant the said sum of twenty dollars, and the costs of this prosecution, and that, unless said fine and costs be immediately paid, the constable shall proceed at once to hire out said defendant, according to law, for a period not exceeding one day for each seventy-five cents of said fine and costs until the same are paid; and it is further adjudged that if said defendant can not be so hired out, then that he be imprisoned in the county jail until said fine and costs be paid, not exceeding one day for each seventy-five cents of said fine and costs.

NOTE.—If a contract has been made by the county court for keeping and working prisoners, then the judgment should direct that the defendant be delivered to the contractor, to be kept and worked by him for such time as will discharge the fine and costs, at fifty cents per day, as provided in section 1235. If no such contract has been entered into, and the county has a work-house, the judgment may, and probably should, direct that the defendant be put to work in such house, or on the farm thereto attached, or on any public improvement of the county, as directed in section 1210.
